Derivatives

Derivatives

The Company holds no derivatives during the year under review and at balance sheet date.

Risk

The Company is aware of the below mentioned risks and is willing to run these risks for business purposes. The mitigating action is described per risk if relevant.

Liquidity risk

The liquidity risk is low since at year-end the Net Current Assets were GBP 0.4 million (2019: GBP -0.5 million). The negative position of the Net Current Assets in previous years was caused by a discrepancy between the attracted financing and the long term loan notes provided which is partly compensated by the timing difference in maturity of the interest payable/receivable and the payable for the guarantee. The interest on the bond is due annually in May for which the Company will need to attract group financing which will be almost fully repaid with the revenues earned in June of the same year. On a net basis the Company has a cash inflow estimated at GBP 800k annually and therefore has built up a positive net current asset position over the years. The Company is responsible for its own cash balances and the raising of internal and external credit lines to cover the liquidity needs. The Company monitors its liquidity risk by using a recurring liquidity management process and by monitoring reserves of cash.

Credit risk

The Company is exposed to credit risk on its financing activity. The credit risk of the Company is partly limited through contractual agreements with its parent company. As per 31 December 2020 the risk was limited to 1% (2019: 1%) of the lending portfolio achieved by way of Guarantee of the bond by the Parent company and the limited recourse agreement limiting the right of recourse of the Parent company on the Company. The Company monitors the credit risk of the borrowers continuously.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk normally arises from movements in market interest rates which could affect the Company's financial result and market values of its financial instruments. As at balance sheet date the Company's interest rate risk is limited because the interest of the issued bond is at a fixed rate, granted to an affiliated company at a fixed rate in the total amount of GBP 300 million. Bank balances in foreign currency are kept as low as possible.

Foreign currency risk

The Company manages its foreign currency risk continuously. The risk is limited to the bank account and various accruals of expenses of the Company in Euro's.

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. After initial recognition, these loans and receivables are carried at amortised cost based on the effective interest method, less impairments. Gains and losses are taken to the profit and loss account when the investments are transferred to a third party or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

Current liabilities

When financial liabilities are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value, plus, directly attributable transaction costs. After initial measurement, other financial liabilities are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Gains or losses are recognised in the profit and loss account when the liabilities are derecognised, as well as through the amortisation process. The same treatment is applied to loans from affiliated companies.

Foreign currencies

All monetary assets and liabilities expressed in currencies other than GBP have been translated at the rates of exchange prevailing at the balance sheet date, unless indicated otherwise. Foreign currency transactions have been converted into GBP at the approximate rate of exchange prevailing at the date of transaction. Exchange differences, arising in the accounts, are recognised in the profit and loss account.

Interest income and interest expenses

Interest income is recognised on accrual basis in the profit and loss account, taking into account the effective interest rate for the asset concerned, provided the income can be measured and the income is probable to be received. Interest is allocated to successive financial reporting periods in proportion to the outstanding principal. Premiums and discounts are treated as annual interest charges so that the effective interest rate, together with the interest payable on the loan, is recognised in the profit and loss account, with the amortised cost of the liabilities being recognised in the balance sheet. Period interest charges and similar charges are recognised in the year in which they fall due.

Recognition of other income and expenses

Other income is taken into account in the period to which it is related. Expenses are determined with due observance of the aforementioned accounting policies and allocated to the financial year to which they relate. Foreseeable and other obligations as well as potential losses arising before the financial year-end are recognised if they are known before the financial statements are prepared and provided all other conditions for forming provisions are met.

Income tax

Tax assets and liabilities are netted off if the general conditions for netting off are met. Taxes are calculated on the result disclosed in the profit and loss account, taking account of tax-exempt items and partly or completely non-deductible expenses.

2. Summary of principal accounting policies (continued)

Cash flow statement

The cash flow statement has been prepared in accordance with the indirect method.

Cash and cash equivalents consists of cash at bank and in hand.

Cash flows in foreign currencies are translated at estimated average rates. Cash exchange differences are presented separately in the statement of cash flows.

Interest received and paid, profits tax are included under cash flows from operating activities.

Transactions for which no cash or cash equivalents are exchanged are not included in the cash flow statement.

Risks

Liquidity risk

The liquidity risk is low since at year-end the Net Current Assets were GBP 0.4 million (2019: GBP -0.5 million). The negative position of the Net Current Assets in previous years was caused by a discrepancy between the attracted financing and the long term loan notes provided which is partly compensated by the timing difference in maturity of the interest payable/receivable and the payable for the guarantee. The interest on the bond is due annually in May for which the Company will need to attract group financing which will be almost fully repaid with the revenues earned in June of the same year. On a net basis the Company has a cash inflow estimated at GBP 800k annually and therefore has built up a positive net current asset position over the years. The Company is responsible for its own cash balances and the raising of internal and external credit lines to cover the liquidity needs. The Company monitors its liquidity risk by using a recurring liquidity management process and by monitoring reserves of cash.

Credit risk

The Company is exposed to credit risk on its financing activity. The credit risk of the Company is partly limited through contractual agreements with its parent company. As per 31 December 2020 the risk was limited to 1% (2019: 1%) of the lending portfolio achieved by way of Guarantee of the bond by the Parent company and the limited recourse agreement limiting the right of recourse of the Parent company on the Company. The Company monitors the credit risk of the borrowers continuously.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk normally arises from movements in market interest rates which could affect the Company's financial result and market values of its financial instruments. As at balance sheet date the Company's interest rate risk is limited because the interest of the issued bond is at a fixed rate, granted to an affiliated company at a fixed rate in the total amount of GBP 300 million. Bank balances in foreign currency are kept as low as possible.

2. Summary of principal accounting policies (continued)

Foreign currency risk

The Company manages its foreign currency risk continuously. The risk is limited to the bank account and various accruals of expenses of the Company in Euro's.

Fair value estimation

The fair value of publicly traded financial instruments is generally based on quoted (unadjusted) market prices at the end of the reporting period.

For non-publicly traded financial instruments, the fair value is determined by using a variety of methods, such as the discounted cash flow method and option pricing models. The valuation methods seek to maximize the use of observable market data existing at the end of the reporting period.

The fair value of current financial assets and liabilities at amortized cost are assumed to approximate their carrying amounts due to the short-term nature of these financial instruments.

The levels of fair value hierarchy used are defined as follows:

Level 1 fair value measurements are those derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. The types of assets carried at level 1 fair value are equity and debt securities listed in active markets.

Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques using inputs for the asset or liability that are observable market data, either directly or indirectly. Such valuation techniques include the discounted cash flow method. For example, the fair value of interest rates is determined by discounting estimated future cash flows.

Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques using inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data. In 2020 there were no financial assets and liabilities allocated to level 3.

COVID-19 impact

Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the local market conditions were disrupted and impacted by various factors beyond the Company's control, including a prolonged spread of the pandemic, government measures affecting the Group's operations and customer's behaviors. These factors led to a high degree of uncertainty on the estimated and assumptions concerning the future that were considered in multiple scenarios which are believed to be reasonable, supportable and realistic under circumstances. The estimates and assumptions have been based on the available information at the end of December 2020.

We agreed with management that misstatements in excess of GBP 150,000, which are identified during the audit, would be reported to them, as well as smaller misstatements that in our view must be reported on qualitative grounds.

Our key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements. We have communicated the key audit matters to management. The key audit matters are not a comprehensive reflection of all matters discussed.

These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter

Response and observation

We obtained the most recent financial information of the affiliated company and evaluated valuation of the receivables.

Based on the procedures performed, as described above, we did not identify any material reportable matters in management's assessment of the recoverability of the receivables from the affiliated company.

Report on the other information included in the annual report

In addition to the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon, the annual report contain other information that consists of:

- Management Report.
- Other Information as required by Part 9 of Book 2 of the Dutch Civil Code.

Based on the following procedures performed, we conclude that the other information:

- Is consistent with the financial statements and does not contain material misstatements.
- Contains the information as required by Part 9 of Book 2 of the Dutch Civil Code.

Management is responsible for the preparation of the other information, including the Management Report in accordance with Part 9 of Book 2 of the Dutch Civil Code, and the other information as required by Part 9 of Book 2 of the Dutch Civil Code.

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

Engagement

We were engaged by management as auditor of LafargeHolcim Sterling Finance (Netherlands) B.V. on January 16, 2018, as of the audit for the year 2017 and have operated as statutory auditor ever since that date.

No prohibited non-audit services

We have not provided prohibited non-audit services as referred to in Article 5(1) of the EU Regulation on specific requirements regarding statutory audit of public-interest entities.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONSIBILITIES REGARDING THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Responsibilities of management for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Part 9 of Book 2 of the Dutch Civil Code. Furthermore, management is responsible for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

As part of the preparation of the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern. Based on the financial reporting framework mentioned, management should prepare the financial statements using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Management should disclose events and circumstances that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern in the financial statements.

Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objective is to plan and perform the audit assignment in a manner that allows us to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence for our opinion.

Our audit has been performed with a high, but not absolute, level of assurance, which means we may not detect all material errors and fraud during our audit.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. The materiality affects the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures and the evaluation of the effect of identified misstatements on our opinion.

We have exercised professional judgement and have maintained professional skepticism throughout the audit, in accordance with Dutch Standards on Auditing, ethical requirements and independence requirements. Our audit included e.g.:

- Identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, designing and performing audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtaining audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtaining an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- Evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Concluding on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting, and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluating the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures.
- Evaluating whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with management regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant findings in internal control that we identified during our audit. In this respect we also submit an additional report to the audit committee (on ultimate parent level) in accordance with Article 11 of the EU Regulation on specific requirements regarding statutory audit of public-interest entities. The information included in this additional report is consistent with our audit opinion in this auditor's report.

From the matters communicated with management, we determine the key audit matters: those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, not communicating the matter is in the public interest.
